

An Index of Fascinating Medical Conditions
as Detailed by A Researcher of Biological Chemistry
Rough Draft Edition

Written by “Time Traveler” Sullivan on <https://github.com/dcs4skjvxb10>

Available under CC BY-NC-ND 4.0

Table of Contents

- 1 Household Problems
 - 1 Lead Panit Toxicity
 - 2 Laundry Detergent Ingestion
- 2 Zoonotic (Animal-Human Transmissible) Diseases
 - 1 Alpha-Gal Syndrome
 - 2 Encephalitic Rabies
 - 3 Visceral Leishmaniasis
- 3 Nutrition and Diet-Related Conditions
 - 1 Milk-Alkali Syndrome
 - 2 Deficiency of Ascorbic Acid
- 4 Autoimmune Diseases
 - 1 Antiphospholipid Antibody Syndrome
 - 2 Something
- 5 Renal and Nephritic-Related
 - 1 Induced Ketoacidosis
 - 2 Polycystic Kidney Disease
- 6 Metabolic Issues by Acute Injury
 - 1 Systems Affected by Electrocution
 - 2 Injury-Associated Rhabdomyolosis
 - 3 Melanoma by Repeated Sun Exposure

- More chapters will be available in a further update -

1 Household Problems

1 Lead Paint Toxicity

Diagnostic model case: [Needs review]

In most older houses and buildings , paints containing lead or any number of lead-containing compounds as an active ingredient in their manufacturing processes were commonly used without any knowledge of it's toxicity. There are multiple degrees of damage with fairly similar symptoms when lead paint toxicity is in question.

2 Detergent Ingestion

Diagnostic model case: [Needs review]

Laundry detergents are a class of household cleaning product capable of removing heavy stains from material by the way of their lipid formation and nature of charge. When ingested, however, they welcome a host of issues relating to the pulmonary system, stomach, and mucous membranes of the throat.

- Some chapters have been abridged -

5 Metabolic Issues by Acute Injury

1 Systems Affected by Electrocution

Diagnostic model case: [Needs review]

[Description not available]

2 Injury-Associated Rhabdomyolysis

Diagnostic model case: [Needs review]

[Description not available]

3 Melanoma Formation by Repeated Sunburn

Diagnostic model case: [Needs review]

[Description not available]